SHIMLA SPICE MENU

Unlike much of European, and far eastern cuisine, the best Indian food is not found in conventional restaurants in India, but in peoples' homes, Maharajas palaces, and humble wayside stalls. We have travelled the length and breadth of India to secure recipes from traditional cooks, and build on them. Therefore some of our dishes are generally not available in conventional restaurants in India let alone in the UK.

The flavours of real Indian food in Indian homes are generated by complex combinations of freshly prepared spice mixes prepared freshly and ground individually for each dish using special stone grinders. These are then cooked in a carefully orchestrated sequence. We prepare these dishes authentically in the same manner, with no shortcuts.
